THE LAW OF SOUTH AFRICA (LAWSA) AND REFERENCE WORKS

The Law of South Africa (LAWSA)

Authors: Various

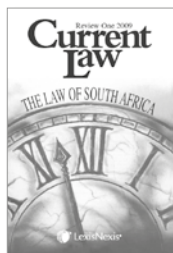

PRINT

ONLINE

LAWSA is the only complete narrative statement of South African law. It is a prestigious encyclopaedic work of more than 63 volumes arranged alphabetically into 162 subject titles. It is widely considered the first point of reference for research and presents the law as it stands, incorporating statutes, common law and cases. Each title is divided into separate independent paragraphs which include cross references to other paragraphs within the title, and to other relevant titles in the work. This allows for speedy and effective research. There are also references to textbooks and journals which facilitate further research. LAWSA has maintained an excellent reputation over the more than 40 years of its publication. Titles are written by experts in their fields and every title is assessed by an eminent judge or professor, assuring the maintenance of high standards. In order to remain current, LAWSA is updated annually by the Cumulative Supplement and monthly by the additional service, Current Law.

Current Law

Consulting Editor: JJ Joubert

PRINT

ONLINE

Current Law offers the busy practitioner a monthly updating service for all the latest legislative, jurisprudential, administrative and academic developments in SA law. It is often used as an updating tool for LAWSA. The Review highlights the legal principles in new legislation and case law and is conveniently categorized by title and arranged alphabetically. The loose-leaf section comprises consolidated tables of cases, statutes, bills and research titles, as well as a subject index.

Voet - Commentary on the Pandects

ONLINE

Johannes Voet's encyclopedic work on Roman-Dutch law from A to Z is regarded as the founding authority on our common law. The Paris edition is the most complete and is substantially enhanced by Judge Percival Gane's selection, translation, editing, case annotations and explanatory notes. For the first time, the original chapters have been arranged in a subject index of modern legal concepts, making the content more accessible than ever before. This seminal work can now be electronically searched with keywords and, when you find pertinent sections, you can print or save the original printed pages. Bolster your research and arguments with this enduring pillar of South African common law, still relied on in judgments, commentary works and textbooks.

NATIONAL LEGISLATION

Gazettes

ONLINE

Gazettes on Lexis Library provides access to the Government Gazettes and Bills of Parliament, as well as the Provincial Gazettes of all 9 provinces. It is updated daily to ensure the latest information on new or draft Acts, by-laws, regulations and promulgation dates is available. It includes full gazettes and special gazettes such as legal notices, liquor licenses, road carrier permits and government tender bulletins. Historical data goes back to 1910 for the national gazettes and to 2004 for the provincial gazettes. Gazette Watch is a complementary email alert service listing the latest gazettes released.

LEGISLATION Continued

National Legislation

ONLINE

Lexis Library's National Legislation is a comprehensive collection of consolidated and annotated Acts, Bills and subordinate legislation from 1910 to date, including draft and repealed legislation and amendment Acts. It is updated daily and accessible to browse in alphabetical or chronological order or by research area. All pending amendments are included and clearly distinguished from current legislative provisions. It has advanced search and other online functionality, such as hyperlinks to enable access from each Act to its regulations, wording of sections prior to amendments and amendment Acts. It now also offers the exclusive Point-in-Time feature to view and compare historical versions of Acts and sections from 2014. The toolbar provides quick access to e-mail, print or download legislation, highlight text and create notes and folders to view later. Additional complementary content includes the Bill Tracker for the status of Bills and related Acts, Acts and Regulations New Releases and the Quick Guide for dates of commencement and repeal. Afrikaans legislation is included, where available. The additional Legal Citator service allows access via a hyperlink to cases that are relevant to various sections of each Act. Gazette Watch is a free email alert service setting out weekly legislative activity.

Legislation by Research Area

ONLINE

The various Legislation libraries by research area contain a collection of pre-selected legislation suited to your practice area. Legislation packages are available for research areas such as Corporate and Commercial, Environment, Income Tax, Property, Intellectual Property, Occupational Health and Safety, and many more. Legislation is updated daily, all pending amendments are included and clearly distinguished from current legislative provisions and full online functionality is available, such as advanced search capability and the Point-in-Time feature to view and compare historical versions of Acts and sections from 2014.

Individual Acts

ONLINE

Current consolidated and annotated Acts with related subordinate legislation are available individually on Lexis Library. They are updated daily, all pending amendments are included and clearly distinguished from current legislative provisions and full online functionality is available, such as the Point-in-Time feature to view and compare historical versions of the Act and sections from 2014.

Butterworths Statutes of South Africa

PRINT

The bound Statutes are published in 9 hard cover volumes with the Acts arranged under 35 subject titles. This comprehensive collection contains all current consolidated and fully annotated Acts from 1910, with the exception of purely financial measures. Principal Acts appear in full with all amendments incorporated and amendment Acts are presented in a summarised form. Pending amendments not yet effective are set out in text boxes to distinguish them from current legislative provisions. Volumes 1A and 1B preface and link the various subject titles in Volumes 2-8. Volume 1A provides a cumulative index to the Government Gazettes from 1990, setting out the Gazettes details of all Acts and their subordinate legislation grouped under subject titles in chronological order. Volume 1B contains a table of statutes judicially considered. It links cases reported in the All South African Law Reports and South African Law Reports to the related sections of the laws of national, provincial and neighbouring governments. It also provides chronological and alphabetical tables of statutes cross-referenced to subject titles with details of all repeals. The text is in English only and it is re-issued annually. The bound Statutes are complemented by the optional service, Quickguide - Guide to the Statutes of South Africa, which enables the user to verify the validity of Acts and their application. Gazette Watch offers a free email alert service setting out weekly legislative activity.

VOLUMES

Statutes of the Republic of South Africa

PRINT

The loose-leaf Statutes are published in 41 A4 binders with the Acts arranged under 97 subject titles. This service provides a comprehensive collection of all current consolidated and fully annotated Acts from 1910, with the exception of purely financial measures. Principal Acts appear in full with all amendments incorporated and amendment Acts are presented in a summarised form. Pending amendments not yet effective are set out in text boxes to distinguish them from current legislative provisions.

Each title includes an alphabetical subject index, plus separate references to regulations and cases in a tabular format under the related sections of the Acts. There is also an alphabetical table of cases cross-referenced to the related sections of the Acts.

The Preliminary Section prefaces and links the various subject titles. It contains an alphabetical index to all the subject titles cross-referenced to the short titles of the Acts, and alphabetical and chronological tables of statutes cross-referenced to subject titles.

The service is updated twice a year with replacement pages. It is a bilingual service: where an Act is available in Afrikaans, the Afrikaans text appears on the reverse side of the English text, allowing for easy comparison.

Two optional services supplement the loose-leaf Statutes: Wording of Sections and the Noter-up.

Gazette Watch offers a free email alert service setting out weekly legislative activity.

Statutes Wording of Sections

PRINT

Statutes Wording of Sections, subsections, etc. of Unrepealed Acts immediately prior to their Amendment is a stapled and punched booklet published annually with the main service issue of the loose-leaf Statutes. It comprises two parts.

Firstly, a table of contents listing the sections of unrepealed Acts amended during the year of issue with reference to the related page numbers in the second part. Secondly, it provides the full text of the provisions of unrepealed Acts before their amendment in that year. It is not cumulative and each annual issue should be retained for a more complete history of provisions.

Statutes Noter-up

PRINT

Statutes Noter-up is an alert service to keep subscribers advised of all new material to be included in the loose-leaf Statutes replacement pages. It follows the subject title order of the main work and provides in abbreviated form information on new and amended statutes, decided cases and regulations. It is published quarterly as a stapled and punched booklet and each issue in the year is cumulative.

Quickguide

PRINT

The Quickguide - Guide to the Statutes of South Africa enables the user to verify the validity of Acts and their application. It provides dates of commencement and repeal for provisions of each Act and cross-references Acts to the relevant subject titles in the loose-leaf and bound versions. Acts are listed both alphabetically and chronologically and all Bills pending and promulgated since 2008 are included. This is a loose-leaf service updated twice a year.

Butterworths Legislation Service (BLS)

PRINT &amp; MOBILE

ONLINE

BLS is a legislation service comprising 26 principal Acts, together with their related regulations, rules, notices, table of cases and subject index. It is available in English or Afrikaans as a collection of legislation or individually by Act and related legislation. This loose-leaf service includes free access to Lexis Mobile, a portable digital reference tool for loose-leaf titles that allows you to access your content digitally. Content can be downloaded to 3 designated devices – phone, iPad, tablet, PC or laptop – and is automatically updated each time you go online.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATION

Provincial Legislation

ONLINE

Lexis Library's Provincial Legislation is a comprehensive collection of consolidated and annotated Acts assigned to the provinces and Acts, ordinances and regulations of the 9 provincial legislatures. It includes amendment Acts and repealed legislation. It is updated daily and accessible to browse in alphabetical or chronological order by province.

It has advanced search and other online functionality, such as quick access to e-mail, print or download legislation, highlight text and create notes and folders to view later.

Available to purchase individually by province or as a package of 5 or more provinces.

Regional Legislation Services (RLS)

PRINT
& MOBILE

ONLINE

The Regional Legislation Services are comprehensive collections of the current consolidated Acts and Ordinances of the provincial legislatures, Acts assigned to the provinces and Regulations. They are available separately for each of the provinces, except the Eastern and Western Cape (only available online).

These services provide separate binders for Acts, Ordinances and Regulations, each grouped under subject titles. Principal Acts, Ordinances and Regulations appear in full with all amendments incorporated and fully annotated, and amendment Acts are presented in a summarised form. There are alphabetical and chronological tables of Acts and Ordinances cross-referenced to subject titles with details of all repeals and assignments.

Each province has an A4 loose-leaf service housed in 4-7 binders and updated with replacement pages as required by legislative activity, usually twice a year.

A quarterly consolidated Bulletin alerts customers to the latest provincial legislation, including information on new, amended or repealed Acts and notices, plus Bills and White Papers, etc. listed by province.

MUNICIPAL LEGISLATION

Local Government Legislation

ONLINE

Lexis Library's Local Government Legislation is a comprehensive collection of municipal by-laws, policies, rules and tariffs for all metropolitan, district and local municipalities. It includes repealed legislation and the legislation of former municipalities. The New Releases node keeps you informed of the latest legislative developments.

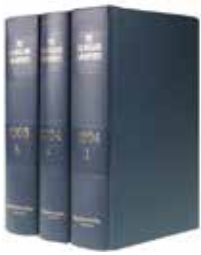

It is updated daily and is accessible to browse grouped alphabetically by type of by-law or by province and municipality.

It has advanced search and other online functionality, such as quick access to e-mail, print or download legislation, highlight text and create notes and folders to view later.

Available to purchase individually by province or as packages of 2 or all 9 provinces.

This is a comprehensive set of non-litigious forms and precedents covering a wide range of topics relevant to the law practitioner across 28 volumes. Precedents are drafted by experts in each field and are authoritative and reliable, being updated regularly with changes in the law. Precedents are preceded by preliminary notes to place the precedents in context and provide a legal framework. The precedents clearly indicate where information needs to be added and this makes them very easy to use and adapt. All precedents are available electronically, even if the printed work is purchased, so no retyping is necessary. Where appropriate, forms are reproduced from the relevant Act or regulation and checklists are included. Mini sets are also available. (Banking and Finance, Citizenship, Commercial Transactions, Companies, Construction, Employment, Entertainment, Estates, Insurance, Intellectual Property, Persons and Family, Property, Public Interest Law and Shipping)

Harms Intellectual Property Law

Authors: D Harms

Harms Intellectual Property Law Reports will be made available as a 12 months subscription. The product will deliver the latest local and international judgments, legislation, bills, international conventions and statutes, articles and the like: selected for their interest and pertinence to Intellectual Property law practitioners. This online series will be updated twice a month and is a much-needed leap forward on traditional Intellectual Property (IP) law reports (that are not only slow in reporting only local judgments but ignore international developments in a field which is by and large Convention based). It is now common practice for courts, including the South Africa courts in Intellectual Property matters, to refer and rely on, foreign judgments and other authoritative material.

INSOLVENCY AND BUSINESS RESCUE

South African Business Rescue Procedure

Author: Dr E Levenstein

This publication sets out the law applicable to business rescue procedures in South Africa. Chapter 6 of the 2008 Companies Act introduced a new business rescue regime for financially distressed companies. The publication revisits the reasons for the failure of judicial management in South Africa and the development of South African insolvency law and its impact on, and the need for reform in, business rescue practice prior to the final incorporation of Chapter 6 into the 2008 Companies Act. In this publication, Dr Eric Levenstein examines the practical challenges of business rescue implementation in South Africa and particularly the development of legal precedent, thinking and interpretation of the provisions of Chapter 6 of the 2008 Companies Act. Weaknesses in the current legislation and the future of the business rescue process in South Africa are also considered, together with recommendations for change.

Strikes and the Law

Authors: H Cheadle, B Conradie, T Cohen, D Du Toit, E Fergus, M Jacobs, A Steenkamp

One of the greatest challenges facing SA labour relations is unprocedural and often violent industrial conflicts. Strikes and the Law covers an analysis of the legislation and case law and considers the reasons why, in many cases, the law is disregarded. The Labour Relations Amendment Bill, 2017 which was published in 17 November 2017 states that the root cause for protracted and often violent industrial action is a misalignment between the law on strikes and action taken by parties during industrial action. The authors consider this misalignment and suggest possible solutions. A critical read for labour law practitioners, HR/IR managers, trade unions and academics.

Consolidated Chief Registrar of Deeds' Circulars and Conference Resolutions

Compiled by LexisNexis editorial staff

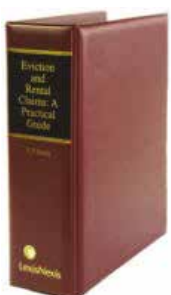

This is a comprehensive work containing Chief Registrar of Deeds Circulars and Conference Resolutions. Circular and conference resolutions are printed in chronological order. The objective has been to produce a bilingual work which is as complete but as concise as possible. It is an essential tool for those involved in conveyancing and property transfer.

Conveyancing Practice Guide

Author: A West

The Conveyancing Practice Guide is designed to be an easy-to-read practice guide that covers most of the conveyancing transactions. The fourth edition covers the vast field of conveyancing in a compact, quick reference format. The Conveyancing Practice Guide provides day-to-day guidance on regulations, preparation of transfer documents and the deeds registry and is an indispensable tool for all involved with the practice and procedures of conveyancing.

Eviction and Rental Claims: A Practical Guide

Author: CP Smith

The common law on eviction and rental of immovable property has undergone radical changes since the adoption of the Constitution and a number of subsequent legislative measures. Different statutes apply in different situations, and prescribe divergent and often confusing procedures. At the same time, this branch of the law has become increasingly relevant, given the overwhelming housing problem that contributes to the increase of informal settlements; the economic downturn that places pressure on the rental market, and the rise in popularity of buy-to-let investment schemes. Eviction and Rental Claims: A Practical Guide aims to practically combine the various measures and to define and explain the common law and statutory measures that govern the law of eviction and rental claims.

Sectional Titles, Share Blocks and Time-sharing: Volume 1

Author: CG van der Merwe

Sectional Titles, Share Blocks and Time-sharing: Volume 1 provides lawyers and law students with a systematic and detailed analysis of the legislation and principles surrounding sectional title ownership in South Africa. This loose-leaf work also caters for property developers, trustees of body corporates and sectional owners by providing detailed chapters dealing with the sectional title regulations and with the management of schemes.

Sectional Titles, Share Blocks and Time-sharing: Volume 2

Author: JC Sonnekus

The aim of this publication is to provide lawyers and students with a systematic and detailed analysis of the principles and legislation regarding share blocks and time-sharing. For this purpose, reference is made to comparable legal systems in order to provide the reader with a window to how other systems deal with the same problems.

Silberberg and Schoeman's The Law of Property

Authors: PJ Badenhorst, JM Pienaar, H Mostert

This book provides a framework for and a detailed exposition of the basic principles of property law, to give practitioners, academics and students of this complex area of law a comprehensive overview of property law in South Africa. It contextualises the principles of property law within a constitutional democracy, to aid an understanding of the development of this area of the law within the current political and legal dispensation. The Law of Property is a useful source of knowledge on important areas of specialisation within the field of property law, e.g. sectional titles and alternatives to conventional land ownership, land reform, mineral and petroleum resources and water law, as well as constitutional property law.

Transfers and Bond Costs

Consulting Editor: D Warmback

This valuable guide contains tables which are compiled in accordance with the national guidelines recommended by the Law Society of South Africa.

Unjustified Enrichment in South African Law (Also available in Afrikaans)

Author: JC Sonnekus

Unjustified Enrichment in South African Law contains an encompassing layout of the generic requirements common to all types of collections based on unjustified enrichment.

The Valuers' Manual

Author: J Margolius

The Valuers' Manual was first published in 1982 as a book. The present loose-leaf version is both an update and an extension of that work. The loose-leaf is better suited to meeting the needs of valuers in South Africa in that it is easily updated in light of changing legislation and emerging case law. This publication is an indispensable practical reference for valuers and others involved in the property valuation industry. It consolidates, in one volume, the theory and practice of legislation and case law concerning valuation.

TECHNOLOGY, MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS LAW

A Practical Guide to Media Law

Authors: D Milo and P Stein

A Practical Guide to Media Law is aimed at helping journalists, students and practitioners navigate legal concepts such as freedom of expression, defamation, access to information and hate speech. One of the responsibilities that must accompany the right to a free media is the duty upon the media to be aware of the law. This book plays an important role in making the law regulating the media accessible to journalists, editors and all those engaged in the dissemination of information in society - a group that has grown exponentially in recent years with the wide use of the Internet.

Information Technology Contracts

Authors: C Pienaar, V Munro, R van Wyk, F Ameer-Mia

Information Technology Contracts is a practical resource for IT transactional legal work. This new publication authored by leading IT legal practitioners and in-house counsel provides clear guidance on the key elements of negotiating and entering into specific contracts in the information technology industry.

A Commentary on the Protection of Personal Information Act

Authors: Y Burns and A Burger-Smidt

A Commentary on the Protection of Personal Information Act provides essential guidance for those trying to navigate the POPI Act. Once POPI comes into force, every private and public organisation will have a 12-month grace period to get their house in order. This commentary will explain your obligations under the Act in practical terms, assisting you to ensure your organisation is POPI compliant.
